About VF Packaging

VF Packaging began manufacturing packaging for the food service sector and agricultural sector in November 2014, while it may seem like a short time ago our real story began over 90 years ago when our ancestors began operating a sewing and haberdashery business in Port of Spain, the capital of Trinidad and Tobago, which over time transitioned into the company known as Fakoory and Company Limited the largest distributor of sewing supplies in the Caribbean.

Our goal is to provide the food service sector and agricultural sector with packaging that will enhance their products and increase the lifespan of their products while providing an avenue to successfully recycle or reuse the packaging.

VF Packaging takes tremendous pride in ensuring our reusable food packaging, cake domes, meat/produce trays, clamshell containers and egg trays are produced at a very high quality and the integrity of our products are never compromised.

The products we manufacture can be utilized by a wide range of consumers such as Egg Farmers, Poultry Farmers, Produce Farmers, Restaurants, Supermarkets, Bakeries, Hotels, Café's, Vendors and Private Residences.

Our products are all attractive and durable, which enhances the appeal of our customers' meals, cakes, produce, poultry, meats, fish, or eggs. Our egg trays are transparent eliminating the need for customers to open the packaging to check the eggs before purchasing, greatly reducing breakage of eggs in supermarkets. The design of our egg trays allows airflow which is integral in reducing the growth of bacteria and mold on eggs. These benefits should not be understated as with all food products health should be the number one priority and when it comes to egg packaging transparent egg packaging is now being used worldwide mainly for the reasons stated above. Structurally the egg tray can support a significant amount of weight which allows eggs to be transported efficiently without any breakage.

Containers

A our packaging are extremely durable and have a strong locking mechanism that is retained after many uses.

We help you keep your creations fresh and help you keep your customers happy.

Food is a sensory experience. The transparency of our containers allow customers to view the items they're purchasing with ease. to engage them wholesomely.

The materials used to manufacture our Premium Packaging are either PET (Recyclable) and PP (Reusable)
