The Republic of Trinidad and Tobago is a twin island nation, situated at the southern-most end of the Caribbean archipelago. The country is one of the most culturally diverse and dynamic nations in the Caribbean. Our rich heritage is demonstrated through our people, culture, cuisine, and religious festivals. We are also home to the Greatest Show on Earth – Trinidad and Tobago Carnival.

At Expo 2020, the Trinidad and Tobago Pavilion celebrates who we are as a people, showcasing our beautiful twin island; and demonstrating our economic resilience. We share with Dubai and the rest of the world, our industries, our innovations, our culture, our diversity and our natural wonders.

STATEMENT, FROM THE GOVERNMENT OF TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO

Our National Instrument, the Steelpan is featured prominently at the Pavilion. Born out of our people's resistance to oppression, the Steelpan is a testament of the innovation which can emerge from the shared hopes and aspirations of a community.

Visitors to the Pavilion also have the opportunity to immerse themselves in the natural beauty of the two islands. Trinidad is home to a wide variety of flora and fauna and is one of the top three nesting sites for the endangered leatherback turtles in the world. Our sister-isle, Tobago, is the perfect Caribbean escape, where you can relax and bask in the beautiful sunshine on any of the island's idyllic white sand beaches.

The Trinidad and Tobago Pavilion also showcases the country's success in the energy sector, which has fueled its rapid development into one of the most industrialized and innovative nations in the Caribbean. Our country boasts a vibrant manufacturing sector and world class service providers. There are also limitless opportunities for potential investors in a myriad of industries.

We warmly invite you to discover the Trinidad and Tobago Pavilion in the Mobility Section, Pavilion Number MA-16-B.

ENERGY EVOLUTION

ENERGY

NATIONAL ENERGY'S
SAVONETTA PIERS

Over the last 40 years, Trinidad and Tobago attracted roughly US$11 billion in foreign direct investment (FDI) for metal processing, ammonia, methanol, urea, LNG and other niche downstream gas-based products for the export market. In 1975, the State identified steel, aluminium, ammonia, methanol, acetylene and furfural as major industries to target for the monetisation of natural gas in Trinidad and Tobago.

The National Energy Corporation of Trinidad and Tobago (National Energy) was formed in 1979, with a mandate to guide the development and management of oil, gas and other mineral resources of Trinidad and Tobago and to assist the Government in the formulation of energy and industrial policy and strategy.

ENERGY

AERIAL VIEW (2001) OF T&T'S 1ST UREA AND METHANOL PLANT, BUILT, OWNED AND ONCE OPERATED BY THE NATIONAL ENERGY CORPORATION OF TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO

National Energy has overseen a number of developments including:

- the construction and ownership of the first methanol and urea plants
- attraction and facilitation of a suite of new petrochemical plants
- expansion of Point Lisas Industrial Estate
- significant business developmental efforts that led to the creation of Atlantic LNG in 1995
- the formation of the La Brea Industrial Development Company (LABIDCO) to manage the development of an industrial estate and port in La Brea as well as
- the creation of the Union Industrial Estate (UIE).

The methanol to dimethyl ether (methanol to DME) plant in La Brea is the latest local downstream operation.

ENERGY

The sector is a significant contributor to Trinidad and Tobago's economy, providing taxes paid to the Government of the Republic of Trinidad and Tobago (GORTT), dividend contributions, payments to suppliers, employee benefits and funds voluntarily invested in social projects across its host communities.

After over 100 years of success in oil and gas, Trinidad and Tobago has established itself as a dominant player in the global downstream energy industry. The country is now the 2nd largest exporter of methanol and ammonia from a single site. The Downstream gas-based industry is also an important source of foreign exchange earnings for the country. Central Bank data shows that over the decades, the downstream sector has directly and indirectly earned US$75.6 billion (or TT$514 billion) in foreign exchange arising from the exportation of ammonia, methanol and urea over the 1985-2020 period. For the last two decades this figure equates to US$68.5 billion. Over the 2005-2015 period, the petrochemical and LNG sub-sectors contributed on average 21% and 23% towards export earnings respectively (UN Comtrade).

SUSTAINABLE ENERGY

THE SOLAR HOUSE PROJECT WAS DONE IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE MINISTRY OF EDUCATION AND THE UNIVERSITY OF TRINIDAD AND TOBAGO

As the world transitions towards a cleaner, greener future, Trinidad and Tobago has set rigorous targets in support of this transition. These targets include:

1. A reduction in overall emissions from the power, transportation and industrial sectors by 15% by 2030 from Business as Usual (BAU)
2. 10% renewables share in power generation by 2021.

National Energy and its parent company, The National Gas Company of Trinidad and Tobago Limited, play an integral role in facilitating the energy transition locally.

SUSTAINABLE ENERGY

Some projects in support of the Green Agenda include:

Green Hydrogen and Hydrogen Hub

Trinidad and Tobago's large petrochemical footprint makes it a prime market for the development of a hydrogen hub. Within the petrochemical sector alone, we possess the capacity to absorb over 2 million metric tons of clean hydrogen.

Energy Efficiency (Super ESCO)

The roll-out of a mechanism to accelerate energy efficiency in Trinidad and Tobago with the aim of ensuring that, as a country, we reduce our carbon footprint. Feasibility studies have confirmed the market and work continues on the implementation of this initiative.

Utility Scale Renewable Power

We are currently facilitating the development of a 112MW utility scale solar power project as part of our international carbon reduction commitments which will contribute to reducing carbon emissions by 150,500 tons annually and generate 275,720 MWh of clean electricity per annum.

Regional Solar PV Manufacturing

We continue to explore the development of manufacturing solar panels and components, via a regional collaborative approach which is expected to support the transition to renewables in the Caribbean.

The key priorities of the TTC SI are:

- Provide members with knowledge of export opportunities;
- Identify and exploit market opportunities;
- Represent the interests of the national services sector including lobbying Government and promoting fair multilateral rules for trade in services;
- Support and facilitate the development of industry standards;

PARTICIPANTS AT THE CODED ARTS INCUBATOR

OPENING DOORS

- Assist member associations in building capacity and
- Promote the development and competitiveness of services in the country through the development of statistical data and analyses.

The TTCSI's Go Global Training Programme is an export readiness training programme for service providers. In the last year, TTCSI focused on enhancing the skills of professionals in the following sectors - the cultural and creative industries more specifically animation; energy services, business and professional services and tourism services. In collaboration with Caribbean Export, TTCSI also launched the Annual Lawrence Placide Services Go Global Award.

This year, the TTCSI has built A National Services Exporters Registry. The first of its kind in the region, the registry seeks to provide detailed trade data on the services sector and facilitate Business to Business (B2B) meetings between local service providers and potential clients from all parts of the world. The data provided by the registry would also increase foreign direct investment as potential investors would have access to previously unavailable data which they could utilize to lower their risk by making informed investment decisions.
